

University of Oklahoma

Center for Applied Social Research (CASR)
and the K20 Center

Lead: Dr. Norah Dunbar

Team: Dr. Scott Wilson

Dr. Claude Miller

Dr. Rick Thomas

Dr. Matthew Jensen

University of Arizona

Center for the Management of Information (CMI)

Lead: Dr. Judee Burgoon,
& Dr. J. Nunamaker,

Qualifications

- Collaborative team with expertise in: Strategic Communication, MIS, Computer Science, Educational Psychology, Social Psychology, & Cognitive Psychology.
- Computer-Based Decision-Aids, Multiplayer Online Games, Web-Based Games, & Instruction.
- DoD & DHS Funded Projects.
- Over 300 Journal Articles.

Collaborators Sought

Partnering with additional professionals for adding realism to game scenarios.

e.g., Experts in:

- Foreign Language
- Cross Cultural Communication
- Intercultural Psychology
- Field Transitions

Research Interests

- Problem-solving Game Design.
- Mathematical memory models
- Deception detection
- Mitigating biases in collaborative tasks.
- Applying emotion, motivation, and social influence theories to various interaction contexts.

Contact:

Dr. Norah Dunbar
University of Oklahoma
ndunbar@ou.edu
<http://casr.ou.edu>
405-307-0691